Having one volunteer is oh so sweet!

Having even more is really a treat!

It's scary to think of this place without you.

More fright'ning than goblins and ghouls shouting
boo!

Property Committee

A special thank you to Jim Z, Jeff P., Douglas J., Jim S., Mavis R., Joe K., Matt C., Ian Koenig and Bob C. for your help around the building and in support of the property. Your efforts continuously help ensure the building is ready for worship and ministry activities.

But there is still so much that needs to be done!

If so please join the property committee. It is time to reach out to everyone who is willing to give back to Mt. Zion and join the property committee. The Light Over London By Julia Kelly

It's always been easier for Cara Hargraves to bury herself in the past than confront the present, which is why working with a gruff but brilliant antiques dealer is perfect. While clearing out an estate, she pries open an old tin that holds the relics of a lost relationship: among the treasure, a World War II-era diary and a photograph of a young woman in uniform. Eager to find the author of the hauntingly beautiful, unfinished diary, Cara digs into this soldier's life, but soon realizes she may not have been ready for the stark reality of wartime London she finds within the pages.

We NEED you! Currently we have 8 members and 12 would be ideal!

Please consider joining us and making music to praise the Lord at Mt Zion!

Rehearsals are on Thursdays from 6 -7 in the sanctuary.

RIC Summit Saturday, November 2

EXPANDING OUR RECONCILING IN CHRIST JOURNEY

8:30-12 NOON

As a timely follow-up to the Austen Hardke event Mt. Zion hosted, this annual synodical RIC summit will help us better live into our welcome to people of all sexual orientations, gender identities, and gender expressions. Hosted by our ministry partner Mt. Carmel Lutheran Church at 84th & Center Street, this summit is designed to prepare us to walk alongside all the people of God's awesome creation. After a short joint session the group will split into two groups: churches that already identify as RIC (as Mt. Zion does) and those churches who are interested in becoming RIC congregations. At the session we attend Pastor Diane Olson will moderate the sharing of ideas among established RIC churches so that we can better be a source of hope and support to many LGBTQIA+ folks. Several of us attended this helpful Summit last year; please join us this year as we learn how to expand our Reconciling in Christ journey!

As we continue to focus on our first Stewardship for All Seasons theme of “Putting God’s House in Order” we are reminding each other of stories about generosity and gratitude. Our stories have power to change hearts and fill hearts with God’s goodness. Thank you to those who have participated in the adult forums and shared their stories. These stories of generosity and gratitude in the Bible and in our lives ground our faith and inspire our responses of time, talent, and treasures in this congregation and in the world.

Martin Luther’s reformation focused on renewing a focus on God’s gift to us of forgiveness, love, and liberation that we know in Christ Jesus at the center of the church. In a way we are actually doing the same thing through Stewardship for All Seasons. Any leadership we have in our congregation and in our community holds that the Word, that is Jesus, is the central inspiration for our faithful responses to that good news.

Luther said that a Christian realizes this truth about themselves in light of the gospel—that they are simultaneously Lord of all and servant of all. We live in this world with the knowledge that we have the greatest treasure in Jesus Christ and that as part of his body on earth we serve and connect to people as he did.

Putting Mount Zion in order is so that we do not function out of fears and anxiety, but live as a community freed into God’s abundance, so we can better welcome our friends and neighbors and go into this world as Jesus’ disciples extending love and healing into a world that needs it.

In a focus group with our leadership board on Monday night, I listened as members described what most inspired them about being a part of Mount Zion and some of the ways they wanted to move forward as a congregation that would inspire all of us even more.

While we put our house in order, Mount Zion is simultaneously reaching out and connecting to other churches and the world in new ways and renewing old bonds. In so doing, our reformation continues as we remember our collective identity and God’s mission calling us to connect.

We are Connected and Called in many ways at Mount Zion. Here are a few of the ways that I want to highlight:

- ◆ Mount Zion is inviting a stronger relationship with our neighboring ELCA churches. We continue to walk with our partner churches Mount Carmel and Reformation. This Monday, from 6-7:30PM is our Partners-in-Faith dinner at Reformation. If you can join us for this event to meet and eat with our partners please join in this important fellowship.
- ◆ Mount Zion has voted to once again become a member of Milwaukee Inner City Congregations Allied for Hope. We were one of the first suburban congregations to join this group that organizes for justice and helps create change that brings a voice and power to those that most need it in the Milwaukee community. From issues of prison reform, to improved transportation there are a multitude of ways for Mount Zion members to be involved in some of the most important issues of this community.
- ◆ Our relationship with the Greater Milwaukee Synod is growing stronger as we have hosted several events at Mount Zion as a gathering point at the center of our synod, including the recent “One People of God Event” sponsored by the synod and the synod’s Reconciling in Christ Ministry Team. When we connect with GMS and support them with our offerings of space, volunteering and donations we connect with the many ministries of the ELCA in this country and around the globe!
- ◆ Our relationship with our neighbor at Martin Luther and Redemption is strengthening as well. The youth have invited Redemption youth to participate with us in our activities and Mount Carmel and Mount Zion leaders have agreed to work with ML and Redemption on more collaborative events in the coming months!

As our hearts for service grow in our community, we are encouraged to remember that we can join with other partners in connecting our calls to be servants to each other and in our community. We can always do more and we can do more together!

-Pastor Josh

Mission of the Month

We are a church that is a catalyst, convener and bridge builder. Lutheran Disaster Response collaborates with other disaster response organizations and religious entities in the United States and around the world. This enables the greatest stewardship of resources and maximum impact of response. We are a welcome partner because we respect the perspectives and strengths of others.

We recognize that every disaster is local. Because of this, we believe every response needs to be rooted in the community; we work to accompany that community from immediate relief through long-term recovery. In our international work we partner closely with companion churches and other Lutheran and ecumenical relief agencies to make sure local needs are being addressed and met. In the United States, we work through our extensive affiliate network and other partners to address these same concerns.

Lutheran Disaster Response strives to help the church continue to be church in the midst of disaster — following Christ's call to bring hope and healing to our neighbor in need. Some key areas of work include:

- Providing emotional and spiritual care for people who have been affected by a disaster and for leaders who respond to a disaster
- Coordinating volunteers through our local affiliates
- Assisting refugees in a holistic way by meeting the varied needs of the community
- Promoting disaster risk-reduction by helping communities build their assets thereby reducing the effects of likely disasters
- Providing long-term recovery efforts by addressing the unmet needs months or even years after a disaster strikes

Jacob and Esau

Oct. 6-Nov. 10, 2019

This rotation schedule covers the lengthy story of Jacob and Esau (Part 1 and Part 2) over 5 weeks. Jacob and Esau's father, Isaac, is now old and blind. Isaac knows that his days are numbered so Isaac calls to his favorite son, Esau. "Go out hunting and bring me some game, prepare the food and when you return I will give you my blessing." Isaac's wife, Rebekah, hears this conversation and she calls her favorite son, Jacob. "This blessing will go to you, not Esau." Rebekah thinks, "that is how God intended it." Jacob, with his mother's help, tricks father Isaac and Jacob takes his brother's blessing. When Esau returns it is too late, the blessing has been given. Esau, in fury, vows to kill his brother. Jacob runs for his life. Jacob sleeps under the stars with his head resting on a rock for a pillow. God gave Jacob a dream where God tells Jacob, "know that I am with you and will keep you wherever you go. I will bring you back to this land, for I will not leave you until I have done what I have promised you." The story continues....

Memory Verse: "Then Jacob woke from his sleep and said, 'Surely the Lord is in this place-and I did not know it!'"

PUTTING GOD'S HOUSE IN ORDER

 Mt Zion LUTHERAN CHURCH ELCA

GROW IN HOSPITALITY & WELCOMING . . .

Growing in Hospitality and Welcome

This week in our stewardship drive for 2020 "Putting God's House in Order", we are talking about our ministry initiative of "Growing in Hospitality and Welcome". At Mt Zion we strive to live into the idea that "All are Welcome", but what does this mean? How do we make visitors feel welcome, and how do we extend hospitality?

We've broken this down into three key areas:

- Replacing the secondary boiler (a cold building doesn't feel welcoming!)
- Care for the church building / infrastructure by increasing custodial staff hours
- Provide awareness and training opportunities to better invite and welcome visitors and new members.

Read more about it here: https://www.mtzionlutheran.org/wp-content/uploads/2019/10/sas\_insert1.pdf (Need a shorter link? Just type bit.ly/2ofxRv8 into your browser.)

Science Tidbits

On Oct 13, the Bible lessons for the day dealt with leprosy, a dreaded disease that for centuries baffled mankind. It struck fear in the heart of every citizen, because to contract it meant a permanent separation from loved ones and banishment to a colony or hospital populated only by other lepers far away from populations centers. There was no hope of a cure. How could there be when nobody had a clue what caused it?

Leprosy peaked during the Middle Ages, with many hospitals sprouting up to deal with the increasing number of patients. Since no cure was available, lepers came to live out their days at a place where some measure of compassion and comfort was made available to them. The incidence of leprosy decreased after the Middle Ages as some individuals developed resistance to the disease.

But the disease persisted. And it continues yet today, albeit in significantly lower numbers. Though leprosy was never common in the US, two leprosy hospitals still remain, one in Louisiana near New Orleans and the other in Hawaii on the island of Molokai. Both still house a few long-term patients who elected to remain after a successful treatment was developed; unfortunately, while disease progression can be halted by treatment, the ravages of the disease are not reversible.

The term leprosy comes from a Greek word meaning “a disease that makes the skin scaly.” The pathogen for leprosy was discovered in 1873 by Norwegian Armauer Hansen, who identified the bacterium mycobacterium leprae in skin lesions. It was the first bacterium shown to cause a human disease. It attacks and destroys nerve endings for pain and touch sensation in the skin. Thus, a pebble in your shoe or a small cut in your foot remains undetected, and the lack of sensation allows small wounds to progress to serious infections that can lead to tissue necrosis (death) that in severe cases requires amputation. Similarly, small, irritating particles in the eye cannot be detected, and if not removed, can lead to blindness. There are also skin lesions that form and cause serious disfigurement.

Identification of a bacterium as pathogen meant that the disease could be attacked with antibiotics, and this is how patients are treated today. The World Health Organization made free treatment available worldwide and declared in 2006 that the disease was largely under control. But 200,000 new cases are reported each year, half of these in rural India, far removed from medical centers. And despite available treatment, the disease still carries a stigma for those with a positive diagnosis.

People suffering from a more modern disease, diabetes, have some concerns similar to those with leprosy. Diabetes also often carries with it a type of nerve damage causing numbing of extremities. People with this condition need to be especially diligent with foot health to make sure they do not develop serious infections from undetected skin injuries. Fortunately, as a type II diabetic, I have not developed such numbing; nevertheless, I am continually admonished by my doctor to regularly check the bottoms of my feet (as should all diabetics).
